Annual Report | July 1, 2019–June 30, 2020

“

Difficulties, even tough ones, are a test of maturity and of faith; a test that can only be overcome by relying on the power of Christ, who died and rose again. John Paul II reminded the whole Church of this in his first encyclical, Redemptor Hominis, where it says, “The man who wishes to understand himself thoroughly... must with his unrest, uncertainty and even his weakness and sinfulness, with his life and death, draw near to Christ. He must, so to speak, enter into him with all his own self” (n. 10).

— Pope Francis

The FY 2020 Annual Report is published by the Office of Institutional Advancement of Theological College. It gratefully acknowledges contributions received by the seminary during the period of July 1, 2019, to June 30, 2020.

Every effort has been made to be as accurate as possible with the listing of names that appear in this annual report. We apologize for any omission or error in the compilation of these lists.

Cover: In recognition of the 100th anniversary of the birth of St. John Paul II, this portrait by Rev. Peter Wm. Gray, P.S.S., inspires reflection on the saintly Pope and his historic legacy. This portrait and that of Pope John XXIII (left) hang together in the TC lobby. They were created during the autumn of 2013 in response to the news of the upcoming canonization of these popes on April 27, 2014. As part of his creative work, Father Gray spent much time viewing photographs and film footage of the two pontiffs. He then prayerfully distilled this information into what he found to be the essence of each pope. The result of this process focused on the gaze of each pope in order to reveal something central about their personalities. Thus, in the portrait of John XXIII, the Pope gazes directly at the viewer, while in the portrait of John Paul II, the Pope gazes outwards towards the future. The choice of the background color of blue was made consciously to illuminate the red and white of the popes' clothing and the three colors together were also meant to patriotically reflect their setting here in Washington, D.C. Father Gray comments, "If my images help people to pray, I consider my work a success."

“The diverse, life-giving pastoral opportunities given to me enlarged my heart in such a way that I left TC with the pastoral confidence and zeal that I needed as a parish priest.

— Rev. Matthew Browne ('19),
Diocese of Rockville Centre

Mission

Theological College participates in the mission and responsibility of the bishops to provide for the people of God wise and holy priests close to the heart of Christ and consumed in his work of salvation. In affiliation with The Catholic University of America, Theological College assists seminarians in the task of vocational discernment and in the preparation for priestly life and ministry at the diocesan level, particularly as experienced in the United States.

Sulpician Tradition

The formation program of Theological College is guided by the principles and ethos of the Sulpician Fathers as articulated by Father Jean-Jacques Olier, founder of the Society of St. Sulpice: “to live supremely for God in Christ Jesus our Lord, so much so that the inner life of His only Son should penetrate to the inmost depths of our heart and to such an extent that everyone should be able to say, ‘It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me.’” Originally founded to reform the clergy in 1630s France, the Society retains its commitment of “developing men of character, educating effective priests, forming pastoral leaders, and nurturing an apostolic spirit.”

Dear Alumni and Friends,

Father Jean-Jacques Olier, the founder of the Sulpician Fathers, proposed the following as the guiding principle of his first seminary and the Church of St. Sulpice in Paris: “The first and final goal of the seminary will be to live supremely for God in Christ Jesus our Lord (vivere summe Deo in Christo Jesu), so much so that the inner life of His only Son should penetrate to the inmost depths of our heart and to such an extent that everyone should be able to say on his own account and with complete confidence in the words of St. Paul: ‘It is no longer I who live, but Christ who lives in me.’ That should be our only hope, our only thought, and the goal of our activity: to live interiorly the life of Christ and to manifest it through the actions of our mortal bodies.” It is this principle of “vivere summe Deo” that guides the mission of Theological College to form future priests after the heart of Jesus Christ, the Good Shepherd and High Priest. To live entirely for God is stressed throughout our Formation Program in all aspects: human dimension, spiritual dimension, pastoral dimension, and intellectual dimension. This idea is stressed further by Pope Francis in the Ratio Fundamentalis where he states: “During the process of formation for the ministerial priesthood, the seminarian is a ‘mystery’ to himself... The seminarian is called to go out of himself, to make his way, in Christ, towards the Father and towards others, embracing the call to priesthood.” Pope Francis further states: “The priest is, therefore, called to form himself so that his heart, and his life are conformed to the Lord Jesus, in this way becoming a sign of the Love God has for each person.”

What the Ratio Fundamentalis states, the Sulpicians have been doing for over 300 years in their work of seminary formation and Theological College has incorporated this into its program of seminary training for over 100 years. We collaborate with our sending bishops, vocation directors, and alumni to assist the seminarians in our formation program to meet the challenges they face in the contemporary world and Church — to live for God alone! Indeed, these are challenging times in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic and the social unrest we are experiencing as a country and world. We are preparing men to be priests who can bring the compassionate love of Christ to those who hunger for Him and to remind others that God is with us!

We appreciate the financial support and prayers of our alumni and friends who help us to continue our mission of priestly formation and to live entirely for God (vivere summe Deo). As always, feedback, suggestions, and questions are welcomed so that the seminary can adjust its program to make it more effective for an increasingly diverse and multicultural ecclesial reality.

On behalf of the Society of St. Sulpice, Province of the United States, and of the Theological College community, I want to thank you for your prayers and support especially as I begin my time as the new rector of Theological College.

May God Be Praised,

Rev. Dominic Ciriaco, P.S.S.

Rev. Dominic Ciriaco, P.S.S.
Acting Rector

“The heart of the priest must be as large as the Church.

— Rev. Jean-Jacques Olier, P.S.S.,
Founder of the Society of St. Sulpice

“The priest is, therefore, called to form himself so that his heart, and his life, are conformed to the Lord Jesus, in this way becoming a sign of the Love God has for each person.

The Rev. John C. Selner, P.S.S. Endowed Chair for Sacred Music and Liturgy

As Theological College moved into a second century of ministry to the Church, the Board of Trustees decided to celebrate this milestone with the 2018 establishment of the Rev. John C. Selner, P.S.S., Endowed Chair for Sacred Music and Liturgy to both honor Rev. John C. Selner, P.S.S., and to ensure the highest quality of musical and liturgical formation of candidates preparing for ordained ministry at Theological College. Father Selner, a Sulpician musician and composer, served at TC and Catholic University for 13 years as director of music, associate professor, and five years as vice-rector. The goal of this campaign, $1.5 million, is now at $1,064,024, thanks to the pledges and gifts of the generous supporters recognized here and in last year’s Annual Report.

The 7th Annual Sedes Cup Golf Tournament at the renowned Turf Valley Country Club in October was a huge success, hosting 12 foursome teams, three of which were made up of seminarians who enjoyed the day with TC vendors, benefactors, and friends.

It was originally located in the rear of the main chapel, Presentation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Chapel (also celebrating its centennial since it was dedicated in 1919).
